Information provided internally by the Erasmus Office of the University of Nicosia. All data are verified and cross-checked with official records.

Dataset limitations

The course of study/subject area and course of study type in the home university's language, as well as the host facility field, are unavailable for some entries. Activity-type fields (exams, thesis, internship) capture only the formally categorised activities for each student and may not reflect the full scope of academic experiences during the mobility period.
